Castro Gov. Is Betraying Own People

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says longtime friends of Cuba feel the ideals of its revolution are being betrayed by the government of Fidel Castro.

His frank appraisal was contained Friday in a long letter to Chilean students who had criticized U.S. policies toward Cuba during Eisenhower's visit to Chile. The Eisenhower letter produced no immediate reaction in Cuba, but observers in Havana felt sure it would provoke a sharp note from Castro's government or a long television speech by the Prime Minister.

The Chilean students had written to Eisenhower that they thought the United States had codified Latin-American dictators and had not done enough to promote democracy and provide economic aid.

Eisenhower briefly mentioned his criticism in a speech during his Chilean visit, and promised a detailed reply. The 14-page letter, transmitted through the American ambassador in Chile, was that reply. In it, the President sought to clear up what he felt were misconceptions about U.S. policies in Latin America.

"In all candor," the letter added, "I must state that many longtime friends of Cuba in the United States and elsewhere in the hemisphere who were heartened by the ideals expressed by the present leaders of Cuba when they assumed control have been gravely disillusioned by what is coming to be considered a betrayal of these ideals in such matters as freedom of expression, equal protection of the laws, and the right freely to choose a representative form of government."

In Santiago, Chile, U.S. Ambassador Walter Howe invited seven student leaders to make an all-expense-paid visit to the United States. They accepted.

Lashes Out Against Amendment

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An attorney for the Arkansas Education Assn. today unleashed an attack on a proposed constitutional amendment which would let voters in integration-threatened school districts decide whether to drop public schools.

Proposed Amendment 52, which will be voted on in the November general election, would allow voters to choose an alternative of giving financial aid to students who want outside their own districts.

Eugene R. Warren, the AEA counsel, told 1,000 teachers attending an association district meeting here that the proposal is "the most destructive, the most vicious and dastardly legislation ever facing advocates of the public school system in the state of Arkansas."

Warren said the local option amendment, if adopted, would "alter the state's public policy on education by providing simple monetary help rather than an efficient system of free schools."

2. Pave the way for excessive interest on school bonds by prohibiting such bonds from constituting a mortgage on property owned by the school district.

3. Wipe out the tenure provision and other security safeguards in current teacher contracts.

4. Abolish the rights of individual voters to control school tax rates.

5. Let any matter affecting Arkansas schools be voted on so quickly after a call for a special election that the people would not have a chance to be fully informed on the issue.

Warren said the proposal is "a classic example of burning the house down to get rid of an unwelcome visitor."

He said the student aid plan would not enable private schools to operate, because the expenses of such facilities would include capital debt payments, teacher salaries, maintenance, insurance and other factors beyond the range of income from tuition.

Warren said he had no quarrel with proposals to avoid compulsory school integration.

But he termed the amendment method "a wolf in wolf's clothing."

U. S. Gummed Up by Trade Stamps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The problem of what to do with the government's ever-increasing treasury of trading stamps is still pretty well gummed up.

No one is willing to venture a guess on how many of the stamps are now stashed away in federal agencies or how much they might be worth.

No one seems to know how they will ever be redeemed.

But this much is certain Uncle Sam is balking at any scheme that would involve pasting them into books for redemption.

The collection of stamps—the kind that are given with purchases in retail establishments—began to pile up last fall.

The General Services Administration sent out the word in November that the stamps collected by federal employees when they make government purchases belong to the government—not the employee.

It acted on orders from the General Accounting Office, which ruled that however small their value, the stamps are items of value to the government.

The stamps are piling up.

West Expects a Barrage From Russia

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western allies are getting set to counter an expected barrage of propaganda proposals from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in the broad field of East-West relations.

Khrushchev may spring a series of such unacceptable propositions at next month's summit conference when talk moves from disarmament, Berlin and Germany into a catch-all category, East-West relations.

For weeks Allied diplomats have been drafting possible counter proposals in this area. Allied foreign ministers are expected to approve them when they gather here Tuesday for a three-day round of pre-summit strategy session.

Most of the backstage work in this area thus far reflects the belief that fringe proposals Khrushchev may unveil will be of little value until the Soviets make genuine concession in settling the future of disarmament, Berlin and Germany.

This skeptical Allied attitude, however, is not expected to pre-

Dollarway Hearing Set Up a Day

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal Judge J. Smith Henley has rescheduled for April 13 a hearing on the Dollarway School Board's report on its desegregation policies.

The hearing originally was set April 14. It was moved up to time for their trip to El Paso, Tex., where the judge will hold court for three weeks beginning April 18.

Henley will help clear the dockets for a judge who has been ill.

The board said in its report it would "insure as possible" assign first grade students next fall according to the preference of the parents, but that it would oppose transfer requests in other grades.

Henley said the hearing would consist of arguments from attorneys.

Probation Assn. Names Officers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — D. E. Young of Osceola has been elected president of the Arkansas Probation and Parole Assn. Mrs. Iva Harris of Hot Springs was elected vice president, and Mrs. Gloria Ford of El Dorado, secretary-treasurer. The association met during the Arkansas Conference on Social Welfare here this week.

Records Are Brought Out by Cheney

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney today showed reporters records that indicated airline companies were not getting a routine 40 per cent reduction in their Arkansas property tax assessments.

He took the action in response to an assertion of Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett that the airlines did enjoy such a tax benefit.

But Cheney said he did not intend to go through a similar procedure "every time Bennett makes such asinine charges."

Cheney earlier had denied the charge by Bennett, who is opposing Gov. Orval E. Faubus for a fourth term nomination.

At the time the revenue commissioner said he didn't know whether he had authority under the law to make the assessments public.

He said he did so today with the consent of the airlines—Central, Braniff, American, Trans-Texas and Delta.

Bennett early this week declared that the companies were getting a 40 per cent reduction from their original cost figures in addition to a depreciated value.

He mentioned a space on airline assessment blanks for a 40 per cent reduction and said the companies were getting so many reductions they apparently ended up being assessed at about 1 1/2 per cent instead of the 20 per cent applied to other types of property.

Cheney confirmed the space indicating a 40 per cent reduction, but said that was because the blank was hurriedly adapted from one in use in another state and added that the 40 per cent reduction did not apply in Arkansas.

The records he let reporters in this area today showed that the column apparently did not figure in computation of any airline assessment.

By law the airlines compute their assessments on a formula involving the time their aircraft are on the ground in Arkansas and the amount of flying time within the state.

The latest Arkansas assessments for the five airlines were Central $22,668; Braniff $29,897; American $33,378; Tran-Texas $20,026 and Delta $128,476.

May Reorganize Health Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress may be asked to authorize a reorganization of the Public Health Service to provide for a new Bureau of Environmental Health, it was reported today.

Such a new bureau would consolidate activities dealing with water supply and pollution control, air pollution, occupational health, radiological health and accident prevention.

The need for a new high-level organizational unit for environmental health was spelled out recently in a report by Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney to a House Appropriations subcommittee.

Rain Could Put Out Forest Fires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Weather Bureau today held out hope of relief for weary forest rangers and volunteers who have been fighting Arkansas' disastrous forest fires for a week.

The forecast calls for scattered showers over the state late today and tomorrow, and a weather expected rains would be sufficient to wet down woods.

Not all sections of the state will get rainfall, however.

The National Guardsmen were called out last night to help beat down several fires which ravaged a portion of the Ouachita National Forest and other areas near Russellville.

Earlier guardsmen were used to suppress a big fire near El Dorado.

About 100 guardsmen of the 217th Engineers took part in the fire fighting near Russellville.

State Forester Fred Lang said the situation appeared to be under control in south Arkansas, but a large number of fires still burned in north Arkansas.

Lang said 100 fires were extinguished yesterday, after they had destroyed 13,000 acres of woodland. Most of the damage was in north Arkansas, which had 42 fires on 11,000 acres.

The southern portion of the state had 58 fires on 2,600 acres.

At least 20 houses have been destroyed since the outbreak of forest fires began last week, including the $15,000 residence of Wayne DeBore, four miles north of Mountain Home. The house burned yesterday.

There have been no reports of injuries.

Lang said only six fires were carried over from yesterday in south Arkansas—three in the El Dorado area and three in the Stamps area. He said all these appeared to be under control.

"North Arkansas is another matter," Lang said. "We have so many fires up there—particularly in the Salem and Hardy areas—that we haven't had time to count them all, nor to form an accurate estimate of the acreage destroyed. We'll just have to wait until we get some rain and those boys have time to get their ducks in line."

Since the current outbreak started April 1, more than 67,000 acres have been destroyed by 695 fires.

Weather conditions have improved gradually, although there has been no appreciable rainfall.

High winds and low humidity combined with dry weather to set fire danger at a peak over the weekend. However, winds were not so strong today and the humidity was higher.

"But most important of all, rain is in the forecast," Lang said.

Urge Alford to Vote for U. S. Aid

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Teachers of Little Rock and North Little Rock were urged today to ask Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) to vote for federal aid on teacher salaries.

The appeal came from Hubert Blanchard, assistant executive secretary for the Arkansas Education Assn.

"We will have to outgrow the idea that the federal government is a freedom-destroying monster," Blanchard told a district meeting of the AEA. "It is one which is concerned with the needs of the people."

Proposed legislation on such monetary aid has become controversial. Opponents contend any federal help on pay would let the federal government exercise more control over local school systems.

Blanchard maintained the bill's provisions would not allow this

Strike Over; Actors Go Back To Work

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The actors' strike is over and the back-to-work call is out for Bing Crosby and Marilyn Monroe, along with other stars and about 6,000 members of the production crews.

After several suspenseful periods when agreement had seemed near, Hollywood's first strike by actors ended Friday in its 33rd day. Negotiators for the Screen Actors Guild and the Assn. of Motion Picture Producers announced they had come to terms on a new three-year contract.

The contract agreed on will give motion picture actors their first pension plan—plus a share in proceeds from sale to television of films made after last Jan. 31.

The actors accepted the pension plan instead of insisting on a share of television profits on films made between 1948 and 1960. The agreement means major studios can release films from the four-year period without further payment to actors.

Both sides in the strike claimed to have achieved a favorable settlement. In addition to a pension plan, it also provides actors with a health and welfare fund. A pay raise of about 10 per cent goes to actors in the minimum-earning categories.

The formula for post-1960 film sales to television gives actors 6 per cent of the producer's receipts, less a percentage for distribution expenses.

As can be understood by the above list and by Arols folks you know, this kind of individual has an active and dynamic personality. Those born under this sign have naturally charming manners and good powers of self-expression. ## Poison Gas Used in War on Cancer

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A poison gas from World War I is becoming a big gun in the modern war against cancer.

It has helped patients suffering from cancers of the lung, breast and colon.

The gas is nitrogen mustard, an agent that attacks and destroys white cells in the blood. It has shown promising results in temporarily prolonging the lives of some sufferers from leukemia, a cancer-like disease of the blood marked by an overproduction of white cells.

Researchers have sought to extend use of the substance to prolong life and ease pain in patients with solid tumors—cancers that attack the various internal organs of the body.

Nitrogen mustard acts against solid tumors by combining or cross-linking with components of their cells. This interferes with their normal function and prevents them from dividing. Cancer cells are affected more than normal cells because they are more sensitive to substances that stop growth.

The principal drawback has been unpleasant side reactions—nausea and other symptoms that have been unpleasant side reactions.

'Nimble and Quick' Describes a Person That Was Born Between March 31-April 19

By MARY ANITA LASETER

"Jack be nimble, Jack be quick." This could very well be the slogan or by-word of the horoscope for a person born in Aries, March 21 through April 19.

Such a person is able to grasp and understand many details of a proposition and come to definite conclusions before the average individual has given the matter much thought. Though quick perception is very essential to this type of personality, it sometimes results in overconfidence and neglect of smaller details due to haste.

Not only does an Aries person think quickly, he acts the same way. This blending of quick thinking and acting shows good coordination between the mind and body. An active imagination is also a result of a restless and aspiring mentality.

Scientists, writers, and musicians would seem to fit the Aries category, so it isn't surprising to note that the following were Aries personalities: Robert Bunsen (of "burner" fame), William Harvey, Hans Christian Anderson, Washington, Irving, Josef Haydn and Sergei Rachmaninoff. A few other well known personalities, past and present, born under the sign of Aries include Harry Houdini, J. W. Fulbright, Joseph Pulitzer, J. P. Morgan, Thomas Jefferson and Frank Woolworth.

Driver Walks Off With Bag of Money

CHICAGO (AP) — A Brink's Inc. driver walked off with a bag of money today but was located in a saloon a little later, apparently before he could buy drinks for everyone in sight.

When he left the truck with the bag containing between $20,000 and $30,000, he scribbled a note reading: "I'm going on a good drunk."

A short time afterward other Brink's employees located William Johnson, who had a perfect 26-year record with the armored express firm, in a saloon, miles from where he deserted the truck.

He still had the money bag. He was taken to Brink's headquarters for questioning and a check on whether he had dipped into the bag for burr tabs.

Edgar Jones, vice president of Brink's, and police gave this account.

The truck, making its rounds of collecting a big cash, made a regular stop on the south edge of the Loop.

The guard and the messenger made a business call. Left in the truck was the driver, William Johnson, an employee of Brink's for 26 years.

When the guard and messenger returned, Johnson was gone. They found his uniform coat and cap and the note about his drinking plans.

Testifies Smoking Can Cause Cancer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Boston surgeon has testified in a 1 1/2-million-dollar civil suit against Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. that smoking can cause lung cancer.

"There is no question that inhalation of tobacco smoke is the largest single factor in the causation of this type of lung cancer," Dr. Richard Overholt, chief chest surgeon at the Overholt Thoracic Clinic in Boston, said Thursday in U.S. District Court.

Dr. Overholt said, however, that it is difficult to prove the relationship in the laboratory.

"The trouble is, we're having hard time getting a mouse to smoke like a man," he said.

Although it was noted that in 1956 Overholt wrote that "the cause of cancer is unknown," the doctor said:

"I revised my estimate. Overwhelming circumstantial evidence must be accepted, and I accept it."

Otto Pritchard, 61, of Pittsburgh charged that 23 years of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes caused his lung cancer. He is seeking damages. He had the lower sections of his right lung removed in December of 1953.

Dr. Overholt insisted that in Pritchard's case, his carpenter's occupation background and work in metal firms could only be assigned about "10 per cent" of the blame for his cancer, "no more than that."

Dr. Victor Kautitz, a chest surgeon from Buffalo, N.Y., testified: "I have never been able to relate a man's lung cancer to his occupation."

Senate Okays Civil Rights; Back To House

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights bill was back on the House's doorstep today after being passed by the Senate 71-10.

House leaders of both parties are expected to urge the House to accept the changes made by the Senate in the embattled measure, none of which substantially altered its basic provisions.

"This would speed final action by avoiding the necessity of having to set up a Senate-House Conference Committee to compromise the differences."

But even if the House does concur in the Senate amendments, the outlook is that this will not be done until some time after Easter.

In all probability the measure will have to run the gauntlet of the House Rules Committee, headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), a longtime foe of civil rights measures.

Passage of the bill by the Senate Friday night climaxes a battle that began Feb. 15 and included more than a week of sessions around the clock.

The House had passed its bill 311-109 on March 24.

The measure embodies most, but not all, of President Eisenhower's civil rights proposals, although not exactly as he recommended them.

Its principal feature is provision for the federal courts to register qualified Negroes and enforce their voting rights in areas where judges find systematic discrimination to keep them from the polls.

Another section requires records of all elections for federal officials to be preserved for 22 months and made available to the attorney general for inspection on demand.

The bill also provides criminal penalties for obstructing by force or threats any federal court orders, including those calling for the desegregation of public schools, and for fleeing across state lines to avoid prosecution for bombing schools, churches or other buildings.

Another section permits the federal government to provide schooling for children of members of the armed forces in areas where the local public schools are closed by disputes over racial integration.

Plenty of Americans Feel This Way

DETROIT (AP) — "The government has never done anything for me. Why should I do anything for the government?" says George Kido. And that includes answering a census taker's questions.

Kido, who lives in suburban Sterling, his wife and Janet Vukovich got into a fuss this week when Mrs. Vukovich called at the Kido home to pick up a census form.

Mrs. Kido answered the door. "I asked her (Mrs. Vukovich) to sit in the kitchen but she plunked herself down in the living room," said Mrs. Kido. "I answered some of her questions, but her attitude provoked me."

Kido became angry when Mrs. Vukovich asked him about bathroom facilities in his home, then handed him an additional census form to fill out. He escorted Mrs. Vukovich to the door and tossed the form out after her.

Mrs. Vukovich, her supervisor, Helene Zimmerman, and a state policeman went to the Kido home the following day and were ordered out. They left.

Mrs. Zimmerman said that when she told Kido he was liable to a $100 fine and 60 days in jail for not answering he told her: "Go ahead and prosecute."

The matter has been turned over to the regional census director, John Tharaldson, who says records show that in 170 years the Census Bureau hasn't had to prosecute anyone for refusing to answer questions.

Another Files for Senate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Archie L. Paschal of near Pine Bluff filed today for state senator in Position No. 1 of the 20th district, which includes Jefferson and Lincoln counties.

Paschal, 39, is a high school teacher who has never held public office. He filed his pledges with Secretary of State C. G. Hall.

Knux Nelson of Pine Bluff has filed for the same post Sen. Sam Levine had filed for renomination but withdrew to enter a chance for a race.

Can't Complain of Boss Too Much

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The state unemployment commissioner says a worker can complain about the boss, but shouldn't overdo it.

So ruled Commissioner John Arcudi in denying jobless pay benefits to a fired salesman.

The salesman had been employed by a company for less than two months when he and his employer had a disagreement over gasoline mileage and other expenses.

The commissioner said the salesman, in making his rounds, mentioned the dispute to his customers and made other remarks about the company. The salesman was fired.

"The position of a salesman on a route is often a confidential position of much delicacy," Arcudi said.

"Therefore, a salesman is under an obligation to conduct himself in a manner which will not destroy the intangible relationship between customers and his employing company."

CHAPTER VI

THE STORY: The holiday season takes the minds of the Holmes family from troubles of their friends. Mark and Rose are completely happy as they approach middle age. Their children Debbie and Tim are growing up.

When the holidays were over and the boys had left, Debbie came sedately into her mother's room and said carelessly, "Olaf's asked me to the spring dance."

"That's nice," said Rose, watching her child drape herself over a chair. "but you're a little young."

"Lots of girls go at 16, and I'll be 17 just before," Debbie reminded her. She had an astonishing dimple under her left eye, actually it was a tiny, star-shaped scar, a memento of the time she'd fallen on the ice. She added, "I never did thank you really for the formal. It's heavenly."

"It becomes you, but it won't do for the Prom? Is that what you're trying to say?"

"Well, really Mother," said Debbie, pained, "the fashions at Debbie change in the spring!"

Maybe, thought Rose, I'd better start putting dimes in the pig against fashion changes.

Mark was still talking about a cruise as he had been ever since last month. "And don't bring up Debbie as an obstacle," he said. "I had a brilliant idea on the train tonight."

"Not Aunt Gwen?"

"Exactly."

"Debbie would have a fit."

"Let her. Parents have some rights, all evidence to the contrary. It's in the Constitution: life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. You and I are going on a cruise, unless, of course, you feel we should go out and see Ruth?"

Rose shook her head. Ruth, Rose's mother, 23 years her senior, was in excellent health. Half the time she wasn't home, anyway; she and Rose's stepfather traveled where and whenever it occurred to them.

There was no question of asking Mark's sister, Lou, to come North; she was needed in Florida—by her father, who, physically vigorous and wildly demanding, was steadily slipping into senility.

"All right, Aunt Gwen it is," Rose decided. "I'm certain she'd come and I can't think of anything more wonderful than going off with you, alone."

Rose was a Christmas person, so she annually consulted budgets, threw them out the window, and went shopping from Thanksgiving on. They'd had a big tree ever since they moved to the country. It was cut from their land and set up in the sun porch. Everyone hung stockings. They had people in Christmas Eve, and family Christmas day. This would be their first year without

"Of course, I do love her, Mark, and she loves me; also, we respect each other. So I've wondered why it couldn't be because she worked; thousands of women work and surely I didn't resent it?"

"Stop reading books, darling and listening to your more affable me how much in love my mother and father were. I couldn't imagine it. I thought of answered instantly, and then looked at him, stricken. "I don't sound like much of a mother," she'd added ruefully, "and I wish you wouldn't say such things. Fluent friends, fresh from the professional couch."

"All right, Aunt Gwen used to anyone over 14 as practically seclude and love strictly for birds, bees and teen agers. Now, I know it was true and I believe I was not compensation for her, but that work was, in a way, beyond the necessity for it."

He had asked then, "Would our children compensate you?"

Rose had nearly jumped out of her skin. "Of course, not," she'd have forced a halt in such treatment after a few days or weeks. In an effort to overcome this obstacle and find more potent cancer-repressant agents, researchers have tried more than a score of derivatives of mustard gas. One of these showing promise is cytoxan.

Four researchers from the Duke University Medical Center at Durham, N.C., described today the results of cytoxan treatment on 120 patients suffering from a wide variety of cancer. They are Dr. R. W. Rundles, Dr. T. E. Fulmer, Dr. T. W. Gore and Dr. A. Opalinski.

In a report to the American Assn. for Cancer Research, they said the tumor-depressing effects of cytoxan appeared comparable to other mustard compounds in treatment of chronic leukemias and other forms of cancer, including ovarian carcinoma.

The researchers said, however, that the problem of unpleasant reactions still remains, and that some patients could tolerate treatment only a week or two.

vent Khrushchev from playing to International public opinion with a series of proposals put forth in an effort to prove the Soviet Union has peaceful intentions.

Diplomatic officials involved in the Allied preparations anticipate anything from Khrushchev maneuvers calling for more trade and cultural exchanges, to revivals of off-rejected Soviet proposals for a scrapping of the Atlantic Pact and a non-aggression alliance between the Warsaw powers and Western allies.

In canvassing possibilities in this area, Allied diplomats have not come up with any red hot proposal of their own which they genuinely believe might ease tensions.

French diplomats are reported interested in proposing that the Soviet Union join the West in a combined economic aid program to key countries. French President Charles de Gaulle may discuss this idea with President Eisenhower when he visits the White House April 22.

But American and British authorities are known to be taking a dim view of this approach, believing it would give the Soviets an unnecessary voice in the economic affairs of key countries.

Meaning of Wisconsin Vote Aired

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They're still talking about the Wisconsin primary, and what it means seems to depend on which party the spokesman belongs to. Here are some late returns:

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York (Republican): "It didn't sound very decisive for anyone. I wouldn't draw any conclusions from it. I don't think any major trends can be drawn."

However, the governor said in New York Thursday, the heavy Democratic vote in Wisconsin Tuesday showed "the Republicans are a minority party in terms of registration. We might as well face it."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California (Democrat): Vice President Richard M. Nixon was "The big loser." "The vice president," Brown said, "was running unopposed in his own party's primary yet drew only 30 per cent of the total vote in a state where the Republican vote is traditionally heavy."

Adlai E. Stevenson (Democrat): "I congratulate Sen. (John F.) Kennedy (D-Mass) on his victory in Wisconsin and also Sen. (Hubert H.) Humphrey (D-Minn) on his splendid showing. The total Democratic vote in Wisconsin was another sign that the people demand a strong liberal candidate and that the Democrats are of their way to victory in November." Stevenson, who is in the West Indies, released his statement through his Chicago office.

Kennedy, who got 56 per cent of the Democratic vote and carried six of 10 congressional districts in Wisconsin, was stumping Thursday in Indiana. He cut his four short, however, and flew to Washington in case the civil rights bill came up for a final vote in the Senate today. Kennedy hoped to return to Indiana tonight.

Humphrey planned a folksy hand-shaking bus tour of some West Virginia coal fields today, looking toward that state's primary May 10. Again he'll be up against Kennedy, and he said: "This time it's my turn."

Rockefeller, speaking at James-town, N.Y., Thursday night, called for fellow Republicans to join him in a statewide crusade in support of the national ticket. But again he did not mention Nixon, the only GOP presidential candidate in sight.

Asked by newsmen whether he

Still Insists Pre-marital Sex Is Okay

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—The President of the University of Illinois was hanged in effigy today a day after the ouster of a professor who contended pre-marital sex relations should be condoned in some cases.

A dummy was hanged from a tree in front of the YMCA while students were en route to 8 a. m. classes.

The dummy was described as well dressed and bore a sign reading: Dr. David Dodds Henry, Thel's, the name of the university's president.

Officials of the YMCA rushed out and cut down the effigy.

Leo F. Koch, 44, a biology professor, was fired Thursday by the university, and a letter setting forth his views on sex was termed "a grave breach of academic responsibility."

The controversy grew out of Koch's letter, published March 18 by the Daily Illini, the student newspaper. The letter concluded: "A mutually satisfactory sexual experience would eliminate the need for many hours of frustrating petting, and lead to a much happier, and longer-lasting marriage among our younger men and women."

Koch, married, and the father of a teen-age daughter and two young sons, declared: "I believe I have been discharged on grounds that violate the traditional academic freedom of universities in this country."

Koch termed his dismissal unfair and said he will fight to regain his job by appealing through university channels to the American Assn. of University Professors and the Faculty Committee on Academic Freedom.

Koch's letter also said that students who limit themselves to petting may indicate "an extreme degree of brainwashing by our religious and civil authorities in the name of virtue and purity."

Dr. David D. Henry, president of the university, in a letter to Lyle H. Lanier, dean of the division of general studies, said: "With you, I consider Prof. Koch's letter a grave breach of academic responsibility. The views expressed are offensive would reconsider heading the ticket himself, Rockefeller said, "We will cross that bridge if it comes. I do not think the opportunity is apt to come." Rockefeller reiterated he would not run for vice president "under any circumstances."

Rep. Quentin Burdick (D-ND) will run against Gov. John E. Davis for the remaining 4½ years of the late GOP Sen. William A. Langer's Senate term.

Burdick, 51, was nominated unanimously at Bismarck, N.D., by state Democrats and Nonpartisan leaders. He'll meet Republican Davis in a special election June 28.

and repugnant, contrary to commonly accepted standards of morality, and their public espousal may be interpreted as encouragement of immoral behavior."

DOROTHY DIX

Readers' Corner

Dear Dorothy Dix:

We read your column daily and have many a debate if we happen not to agree with you. However, your replies often seem really inspired.

A few weeks ago a girl wrote about a boy she had her heart set on. His mother (lucky for him) talked him out of doing what the girl wanted — to go steady.

I know I am hopelessly old-fashioned but I sure don't think many brides come to the altar with stars in their eyes who have companioned freely with boys from 16 years on.

I did not allow my five children to date until they were 18. But I made it my business to fill their lives with interesting things and some hard work. I taught the girls to make their own clothes, play the piano, cook and do housework. A friend taught them all to type. I took them to church and Sunday school. It was not easy for my husband didn't agree with me always, but a way seemed to open before me. I wanted them to learn to be noble and industrious citizens.

My girls were besieged by boys who were allowed to be their friends and to enjoy our good times, but the girls never went off with them alone — not even when they were older. Three of the girls are married now to fit and prosperous young men. The fourth teaches in high school.

My youngest son began to go steady, contrary to my counsel, when he was 16. When he was 18, he ran away and got married. He and his wife could not get along because he had no training to enable him to support her. She eventually got a divorce.

The magazines are full of articles about teen-agers who are supposed to have the right to go steady. It seems to me that all thinking people should raise their voices against the custom.

I feel much better now I've expressed myself! — A Mother

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Not long ago a young boy wrote to you saying that he was sure that he was the right boy for a girl who was going with somebody else. He must have a lot of nerve to write such a thing. You actually

Meet Shifted to Shreveport

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A meeting of the Independent American Federation of State Parties, scheduled here May 6-7, has been shifted to Shreveport, La.

Kent Courtney of New Orleans said yesterday the conference was moved because a Little Rock hotel told him another meeting had been pre-empted space.

Courtney, who said he had moved the meeting from Jackson, Miss., to Little Rock at the request of Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, expressed disappointment at the latest move and charged that national political powers were behind it. He was not specific in this charge.

Not a Red, Says Award Winner

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Academy Award winner Simone Signoret says that, although she considers her politics a personal matter, she is not and never has been a member of the Communist party.

The question came up because she was refused a visa to visit the United States in 1957.

"Someone said it was because I signed the Stockholm appeal seeking to end wars and stop the manufacture of atom bombs," she told interviewers Wednesday.

"Maybe that was the reason. I do not know—but I do know that when I applied again in 1959 I gave the same answers to all the questions, and I got the visa."

The French actress was quoted in a copyrighted article by the Los Angeles Examiner as saying she and her husband, Yves Montand, had "sympathized with things which which Communists also sympathized, especially a few years ago concerning things happening in France."

There has been speculation in some quarters that Miss Signoret's visa denial may have been on the ground she had expressed "leftist sympathies."

"A leftist in France could be any of 40 things," she said. "We're independent thinkers. We believe in peace."

Holding the Oscar she received for her performance in "Room at the Top," the 39-year-old actress said:

"When I answered the question on my visa request about overthrowing the United States government I told the truth. Frankly I love my country. How could I help love it? The people have been so kind to me and Yves."

ly encouraged him to out-do her steady. My boy friend and I feel that if a couple accept going steady for its true meaning, they are adult enough to know what they want.

If that boy takes your advice, we feel that he is not an adult. We hope he has more sense than his letter indicated.—Sue and Ken

Perry Mason in Defense of Opponent

By BOB THOMAS
AP Wire-TV Writer

HOPE, WYO., (AP)—The case of the fired D.A. continued to rumble today as Raymond Burr came out in defense of his court-room opponent, William Talman.

Burr, TV's Perry Mason, issued this statement to the Associated Press:

"The present situation involving William Talman is one of the most unfortunate I have ever encountered. I feel very strongly that the incident has been magnified out of proportion."

"I am sure that in the final analysis matters will be cleared up to be as serious as newspaper stories would indicate, and that Mr. Talman will resume his career, achieving the heights that his talent so richly deserves."

"Tonight's chapter of the 'who-dunnit' is called 'The Case of the Crying Church.' Burr has defended attorney Mason (faced actor David Lewis as deputy D.A.).

Burr apparently will be vanquishing a succession of dupes, Talman, who argued the state's case in the courtroom drama, was dropped as a cast regular after his arrest at a wild party.

CBS found itself with four on-released shows in which Talman appears. These were shelved for re-runs and newly-made shows without Talman. He will not appear on "Perry Mason" until May 25.

The case continues its controversy. Talman, faced with low vagrancy charges, declined a program, particularly this program, should fire a man merely on an accusation."

Executive Producer Gail Patrick Jackson first said a decision about Talman's job would be forestalled until outcome of his case. But the firing order came from the network. "CBS took the stand," Mrs. Jackson said.

Talman's criminal trial is scheduled for April 25, and his attorney, Arthur Crowley, said the actor "will certainly plead not guilty." The lawyer added that CBS hasn't notified Talman of a dismissal. "And if it does, we will promptly take action, as we still have a contract," he said.

As with all actors, Talman's contract has a clause calling for dismissal in case of public censure for immorality. "But you can't fire a man who hasn't been proven guilty," Crowley said.

England, in Lonsko county, was originally called Hurgons.

Ed Smith and his wife, who homesteaded the land on which the city of Manila stands, are buried there.

In 1937, Arkansas industries numbered 1,044, and had an annual production value of more than $5,000,000.

EW BINOCULARS MAKE LONG VIEW EASY AT SEA By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN Editor, Popular Boating

Once a boatman sails out from shore, familiar landmarks blend into the horizon. Navigation becomes more difficult.

On inland waters, as well, numbered channel markers and flashing beacons can best be recognized with binoculars.

Modern improvements have come to optics as well as boats. Most recent are moderate — cost, high-quality binoculars especially adapted for marine use which are being imported from Japan.

The new glasses are not extremely high powered. This would be a disadvantage on water. The pleasure boat skipper is looking out from an unstable platform. Strong glasses would make it difficult to aim them at a lighthouse and hold it in view while the boat is moving.

Instead of extra power, the new glasses offer an extra-wide field of view. They are water resistant, lightweight and have coated lenses.

What features should a boatman look for when buying binoculars? —For power, six to 10 is best. Opera glasses are usually only three power. Field glasses are slightly more.

—For focusing, individual adjustment of each eyepiece is less expensive. Central focusing is better for marine use since it allows one-hand operation. The time-honored sailors' adage says: "One hand for yourself and one for the boat." A central focusing model lets you adjust the glasses with one hand while holding onto a rolling boat.

—For light gathering power, note the size of the front and rear lenses. A large diameter eyepiece indicates a bright image that will be useful at night.

—For lens coating check, see if there is a blue tint to the glass. Uncoated optics and prisms can cause up to 40 per cent loss in brilliance.

—For best field of view, ask for wide angle or the new extra wide angle models. With the same magnification, you will see a much broader view and find it easier to spot the target and hold it in sight.

—For quality of construction, test the controls to be sure they move smoothly. Be certain that both images can be aligned into one clear picture. Reverse the glasses, look into the large lenses to check interior for any imperfections.

When you use binoculars on your boat, keep them on a strap around your neck for safety. Store them in their case in a dry safe place, or take them home if the boat cannot be locked.

Have a permanent shelf for them when you are underway so they are ready for use.

Good binoculars make it easy for the skipper to take a long view.

Malvern Strike of 6 Months Ends

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — A 6½ month strike at the Malvern Brick and Tile Co. was settled yesterday with the signing of a new contract.

Details of the contract were not disclosed. But F. P. Garvin, executive vice president of the Malvern Brick Co., said union members who took part in the strike would go off a preferential hiring list.

About 115 men were idled when the strike began Sept. 22. Union members involved belong to Local 115 of the United Steel and Stone Workers.

At the time of the walkout, union spokesmen said better working conditions were sought.

Transient Asked About Slayings

SHOW LOW, Ariz. (AP) — A transient was held for questioning by Illinois authorities in connection with the slaying of three women in Starved Rock State Park, Ill., last month.

Town Marshal Denny Thompson said he was holding Richard Anthony Bunnell 21, of Paris, Ill., for Illinois officers.

Bunnell was arrested March 30 for vagrancy. Thompson said Bunnell had twice lied about his recent whereabouts and had in his possession a road map tracing a route from Bloomington, Ill., to Flagstaff, Ariz.

Bloomington is 50 miles south of the park where the bodies of

No Value in Putting Man Into Space

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A noted American scientist today was quoted as saying that "putting a man in space is a stunt" with little scientific or military value.

The statement by Dr. Vannevar Bush was read to the House Committee on Science and Astronautics behind closed doors in Washington March 25.

It was released with Dr. Bush's cooperation to the New Bedford Standard-Times and published in today's editions.

Dr. Bush said that a man in space "can do no more than an instrument, in fact can do less."

Dr. Bush, who is chairman of the Governing Board of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said he takes a "cold-blooded" view of the space program.

The results of some satellite launchings, he said, had been "valuable and intriguing" but did not warrant restriction on missile development.

Asserting some long-range projects are an absurdity that neglect basic laws of science, Dr. Bush said: "There is no question that the military aspects are of supreme importance" in the space program. "They involve the development and production of long-range missiles, and in particular their range, precision, reliability and protection against surprise attack."

Dr. Bush—who as head of the World War II Office of Scientific Research and Development had over-all direction of the atomic bomb project — asserted in his statement to the committee: "We are not organized as well as we might be for military effort during a period of relative peace."

But he added that he is not terrified by the so-called missile gap or our lag in the "propaganda phase" of the space exploration program.

The 70-year-old scientist also said: "The days when men will be in space for long periods and for varied purposes are so far off that we need not hurry on one aspect of their reactions and potential operations."

God's Word Says Come

Come let us go into the House of the Lord

To VICTORY

...that is the cry of the multitude. Today we join the happy throngs around the earth as we shout together, "Hosanna!" Whatever the morrow may hold of suffering, today we declare to the world... "Christ has come." Because we are in His company, we know that God ultimately will be sovereign over all the world. We are confident that goodness is stronger than evil. We are sure love will triumph over hate. Whatever a Friday of crucifixion may bring of temporary defeat, we know life will triumph over death, and the Christian way will resolve itself supremely in the final destiny. Then Palm Sunday is a day to celebrate and set up our banner of hope. "For right is right as God is and right the day must win." This hope will convert, for us, spiritual defeat into eternal victory.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
